

COALITION FOR ASIAN AMERICAN CHILDREN + FAMILIES

30TH ANNIVERSARY

BENEFIT GALA AND CARING FOR CHILDREN AWARDS

The Coalition for Asian American Children and Families' 30th Anniversary Benefit Gala and Caring for Children Awards brings together CACF's supporters, members, and volunteers for a moving evening of recognizing the significant achievements of our honorees and supporting CACF's work to empower youth, parents, service providers and policymakers to improve the health and well-being of Asian Pacific American children and families.

Our Mission

CACF is the nation's only pan-Asian children's advocacy organization, aiming to improve the well-being of Asian Pacific American children and families. We challenge the stereotypes about APAs and raise awareness about the many families in our community who are struggling with cultural differences, language barriers, and economic insecurity. We educate the community and policymakers, train youth and parents as advocates, and help health and human service professionals to better understand our vibrant, diverse community.

Why CACF?

New York City is home to over 1.3 million Asian Pacific Americans, making up 15% of the City's population and representing 32% of the city's growth since 2000. As our community has grown, so have our community's struggle with poverty, linguistic isolation, educational challenges and limited job prospects.

- Successfully advocated for a historic $2.5 million Non Profit Stabilization Fund, in collaboration with the Community of Colors partners, to strengthen the capacities of our community organizations.
- Awarded the New York State Department of Health In-Person Assistor (IPA)/Navigator grants for the New York State of Health Marketplace to provide health insurance enrollment assistance to more than 8,000 thousand uninsured Asian Pacific Americans, speaking over 19 languages.
- Since 2004, CACF has trained and empowered over 200 Asian Pacific American youth leaders to speak out on behalf of their communities and advocate for changes in the public school system.
- CACF's POWER parent program has trained over 500 immigrant parents to advocate for their families' rights.

“CACF, particularly the Asian American Students Advocacy Project (ASAP) taught me so much about Asian American issues in the USA. CACF provided me with public speaking and leadership skills training. I felt welcomed and accepted as a new immigrant into NYC.”

JIAN LU
MATH TEACHER
NYC DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

“I support CACF because as the nation’s only pan-Asian advocacy organization for children and families, it serves a very important role in bringing voices to those who are underrepresented.”

H. SUJIN KIM
CACF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

By supporting CACF, you will help us...

Advocate for policies that would mandate City agencies to utilize a standard approach to data collection, disaggregation and reporting on Asian Pacific Americans to better address our unique social, educational, and economic differences;

Push for increased access to vital New York City agencies' services that are culturally and linguistically appropriate;

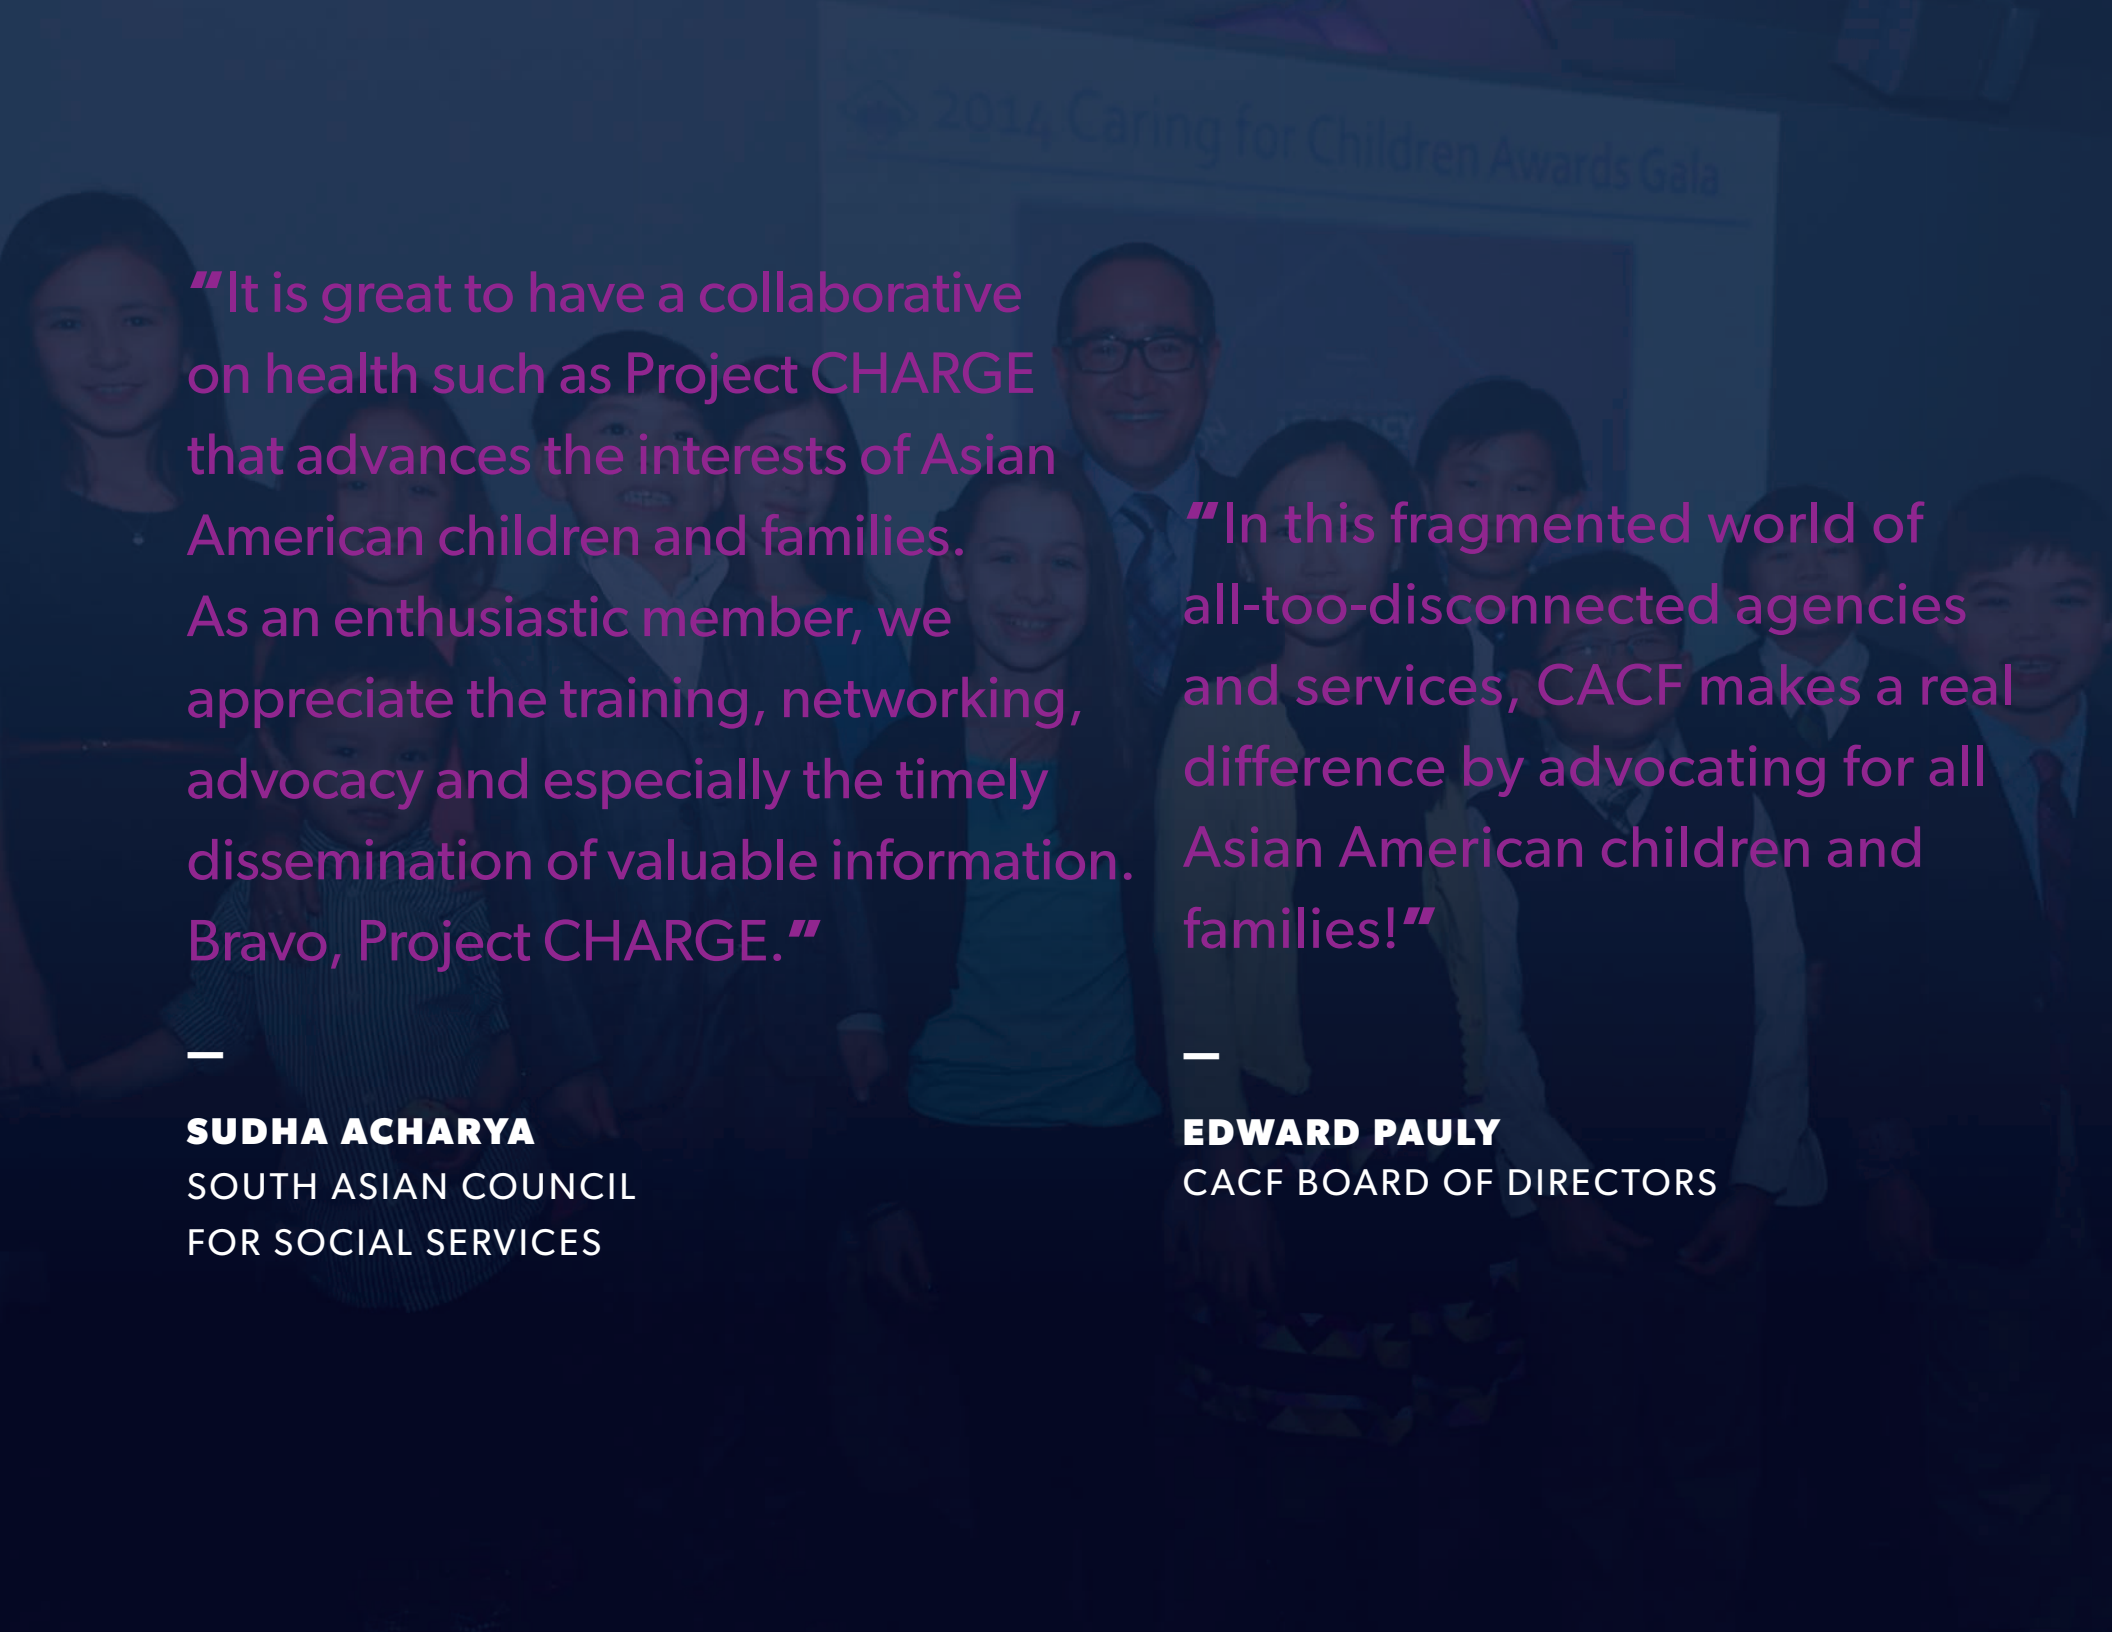

Promote programs within the NYC public school system to better address the special needs of Asian Pacific American students, which make up 145 of the city's public school population and represent 20% of English Language Learner students;

Empower parents to understand their rights and their children's rights in the education and health systems; and

Build on our 30 years of giving our city's most vulnerable populations a voice in how city and state governments better serve them.

"It is great to have a collaborative on health such as Project CHARGE that advances the interests of Asian American children and families. As an enthusiastic member, we appreciate the training, networking, advocacy and especially the timely dissemination of valuable information. Bravo, Project CHARGE."

"In this fragmented world of all-too-disconnected agencies and services, CACF makes a real difference by advocating for all Asian American children and families!"
